What was the most valuable thing you learned in the workshop?

- Creating Zone’in classroom and gym stations and application of the strategies.
- Overall – information was interesting, informative and useful.
- Practical ideas for incorporating sensory ideas into the classrooms.
- All.
- The classroom and outdoor/gym set up, and what you can use to improve “profits” in the students.
- Info re: setting up a classroom and gym.
- The research was interesting on literacy.

Was there anything not covered in the workshop that you felt should have been?

- No
- No
- No – everything was helpful and good information.

How could this workshop have been better or more helpful?

- There was a lot of information to cover in three days, and by day three I was on information overload.

Would you recommend this workshop to others? If not, why not?

- Yes, very practical.
- Yes

- Yes to all school districts/teachers.

Any other comments?

- Be careful of the right brain/left brain info because we advocate “teaching” the basics ie printing which is a left brain function, uncomfortable for the learner by necessary. Lots of research on multiple intelligence (new buzz word).
- How to increase profits in the classroom, the title is misleading. Sounds like it refers to money ie private childcare of preschool programs and how to make money form private classroom/programs.
- Thank you.
- Thanks for all the great classroom ideas!
